Course Description: A Concepts of Management course is designed to provide students with an introduction to the key concepts, principles, and practices of modern management. The course covers a broad range of topics related to management, including organizational behavior, strategic planning, leadership, human resource management, communication, and decision-making. The course typically begins with an overview of the history and evolution of management theories, including classical, behavioral, and modern approaches. Students will then learn about the basic functions of management, including planning, organizing, leading, and controlling, and how these functions are applied in various organizational settings.

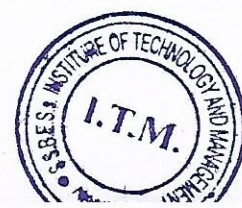

Course Objective :

- To introduce students to the key concepts, principles, and practices of modern management.
- To provide students with an understanding of the historical and theoretical evolution of management and its impact on contemporary management practices.
- To explore the basic functions of management, including planning, organizing, leading, and controlling, and how they are applied in different organizational settings.
- To provide students with an understanding of different leadership styles and approaches and how they can be applied to motivate and inspire employees.
- To develop practical skills and techniques for effective management, such as communication, decision-making, problem-solving, and conflict resolution.
- To prepare students for management roles in various industries and sectors, and to develop their leadership and management competencies.

Course Outcome:

- An understanding of the key concepts, principles, and practices of modern management, and their historical and theoretical evolution.
- The ability to apply the basic functions of management, including planning, organizing, leading, and controlling, in different organizational settings.
- An awareness of the impact of organizational culture, motivation, and team dynamics on organizational performance, and the ability to leverage these factors to achieve organizational goals.
- An appreciation for the different leadership styles and approaches, and the ability to apply them to motivate and inspire employees.
